Adani Enterprises demerges food FMCG biz to Adani Wilmar

Janaki Krishnan
Mumbai

The Adani Enterprises (AEL) Board, on Thursday, approved the demerger of its food FMCG business to Adani Wilmar (AWL) along with AEL's strategic investment in Adani Commodities, a move that will bring Adani Wilmar directly under the control of Adani promoter group, paving the way for a potential stake sale.

The food FMCG business has become self-sustained, is performing well and is poised for further growth under Adani Wilmar, the company said.

For Adani Enterprises, this restructuring will not only "unlock the value for shareholders but also allow focused strategy for sustainable growth in its incubating businesses," it added.

Shareholders of AEL will receive 251 shares of AWL for every 500 shares held.

Shareholders of AEL will receive 251 shares of AWL for every 500 held REUTERS

AWL is already a listed entity and AEL holds 43.94 per cent stake in it. With the demerger, AEL shareholders including promoter and promoter group shareholders will hold shares of Adani Wilmar directly and AEL will cease to be the joint venture entity of AEL.

PROMOTER STAKE

Post the demerger, the promoter stake in Adani Wilmar, including Wilmar International, will be reduced to 76.7 per cent from 87.8 per cent now.

"This demerger is in line with AEL's incubation strategy which includes demerging of the business once it is self-sustained and properly established. In the past, AEL has demerged businesses including Adani Green Energy, Adani Energy Solutions once they became self-sustaining," the company explained.

The company explained that each of the varied businesses being carried on by AEL either by itself or through its subsidiaries or through associate companies including food FMCG business had significant potential for growth and profitability.

The restructuring would allow enhanced focus towards the operation of the businesses.

BLINKIT DARK STORE

The company said it plans to expand Blinkit's dark store network to 2,000 stores by the end of 2026 while remaining profitable. "Most of these stores would be in top 10 cities in India. Beyond the large cities, the size of the market is still undiscovered," said Albinder Dhindsa, CEO, Blinkit.

Meanwhile, the company said its "dining-out business" is now operating at a "run-rate of $500 million-plus annualised GOV" and is profitable.

"There is an opportunity to further expand our going-out offering, building on top of our dining-out business. Small modular reactors are the way to go for green energy transition, say experts

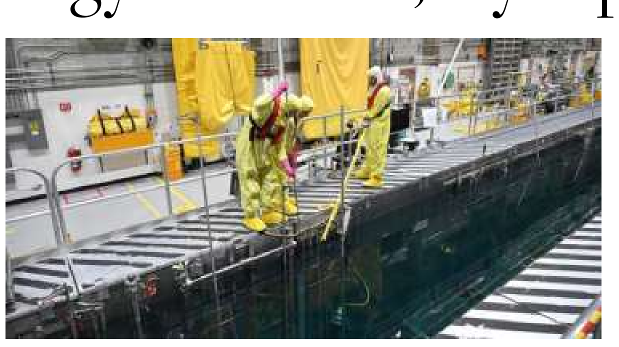
M Ramesh
Chennai

Small modular reactors (SMRs), the setting up of which was mentioned in the Finance Minister's Budget speech last week, are the way to go for green energy transition, many prominent citizens have said.

The Finance Minister, Nirmala Sitharaman, noted in her speech that "nuclear energy is expected to form a very significant part of the energy mix for Viksit Bharat." She added that towards that pursuit, "our government will partner with the private sector for setting up Bharat Small Reactors and research & development of newer technologies for nuclear energy."

SMRs, which are small sized reactors of about 100 MW to 250 MW capacity, are the in-thing in the energy sector today, with many countries building such reactors. Asked for a reaction to the statement, MK Narayanan, former National Security Advisor to Government of India and former Governor of West Bengal, told businessline that he had "always been a votary of SMRs."

Narayanan, who was deeply involved in the Indo-US Nuclear Agreement of 2005, said that setting up large nuclear reactors had become difficult due to a variety of reasons.



INNOVATIVE TECH. Capsules of ANEEL fuel for accelerated irradiation testing being loaded in the advanced test reactor at Idaho National Laboratory

Describing SMRs as a "compelling solution", Narayanan said that while large nuclear power plants produce a lot of nuclear waste, disposing of waste from SMRs would not be a big problem—especially if emerging fuels, such as the ANEEL fuel, are used.

Renowned nuclear scientist and former Chairman of the Atomic Energy Commission, Dr Anil Kakodkar, also welcomes SMRs. "Indian reactors are on par with the best in the world," Kakodkar had told businessline in May.

EXPENSIVE REACTORS

Former CEO of the IT giant, Cognizant Technology Solutions, Lakshmi Narayanan, also told businessline that he was "excited" about SMRs—an area in which India can be a global technology leader.

SMRs have their own share of detractors. A recent report of the think-tank, Institute for Energy Economics and Financial Analysis (IEEFA), decried SMRs as "too expensive, too slow to build and too risky to play a significant role in transitioning away from fossil fuels."

Noting that the industry is "plagued by cost overruns", the report observed that a key argument of SMR proponents was that the new reactors would be economically competitive. "But the on-the-ground experience with the initial SMRs that have been built or that are currently under construction shows that this simply is not true," said David Schlissel, IEEFA director of resource planning analysis and co-author of the report. However, Indian experts are not impressed by the argument.

Noting that green energy transition could not be done without nuclear energy, MK Narayanan said that even if SMRs were costly, "if it has to be done, it has to be done."

Interestingly, all the three — MK Narayanan, Kakodkar and Lakshmi Narayanan — support a new nuclear fuel developed by an American company, Clean Core Thorium Energy set up by an Indian businessman, Mehul Shah. Lakshmi Narayanan has also invested in the company.

As businessline reported on January 10, 2024, the Chicago-based company has developed (and patented) a fuel, which is a mix of thorium and uranium of a certain level of enrichment, called HALEU (High Assay Low Enriched Uranium). Clean Core calls this concoction ANEEL (Advanced Nuclear Energy for Enriched Life). ANEEL, which is a mixture of 80 per cent thorium and the rest uranium enriched to a shade under 20 per cent, can enable India to start using thorium, abundantly available in the country, for producing nuclear energy. The fuel is currently undergoing tests at the Idaho National Laboratory, USA.

Indices Close at New Highs, Fed Rate Talk Adds Strength

FPIs buy shares worth ₹2,089 crore; 'Next hurdle for Nifty at 25,300'

Our Bureau

Mumbai: India's equity benchmarks closed at record highs on Thursday with the Nifty surpassing the 25,000 mark for the first time in a roller-coaster trading session. The overnight strength on Wall Street following US Federal Reserve Chair Jerome Powell's remarks on interest rate cuts helped the index cross the milestone but gains were limited amid concerns that the market was overbought.

The Nifty advanced 0.24%, or 59.75 points, to close at 25,010.9, after hitting a all-time high of 25,078.3. The Sensex recorded an all-time high of 82,129.4 before closing at 81,867.5, up 0.15%, or 126.2 points, over the previous day.

In the US, the S&P 500 jumped 1.6% and the Nasdaq Composite surged 2.6% on Wednesday after Powell indicated the Fed could start cutting interest rates in September.

"Overnight, the US Fed's dovish stance on the September rate cut led a rally in the tech stocks and created a backdrop of strong global markets," said Andrew Holland, CEO-Avendus Capital Alternate Strategies.

Some analysts say markets are in a bull case scenario and might be at 27,000 levels by March 2025

"A further up-move of around 4% from the current levels is expected given the robust liquidity in domestic markets."

At home, the Sensex and the Nifty on Thursday ended higher for the fifth straight session and are up nearly 14% since June 4 — the general election results day.

"While the RSI (Relative Strength Index) indicates that the markets are in an overbought zone, the trend is strong on the upside, which is why investors should look for buying opportunities," said Jain.

The next hurdle for the Nifty is at 25,300, which is likely to be surpassed in the first half of August, he said.

Foreign Portfolio Investors (FPIs) net bought shares worth Rs 2,089 crore on Thursday, while their domestic counterparts sold to the tune of Rs 337 crore.

The Midcap 150 index declined 0.71% while the Smallcap 250 index ended 0.69% lower on Thursday. Out of the 2,800 stocks traded on NSE, 1,008 rose, while 1,725 fell and 67 remained unchanged.

Wealth Advisors Suggest Portfolio Clean-up, in Favour of Large-caps

Prashant Mahesh

Mumbai: Cut risky bets and eliminate underperformers. That's the portfolio advice wealth managers have for investors with the Nifty hitting 25,000 for the first time on Thursday. "Investors need to be worried about schemes where the returns are too high or those which have been underperformers relative to their benchmark indices," said Vineet Nanda, founder, Sift Capital.

Some of the mutual fund scheme categories that have been top performers in recent times include PSUs, defence and manufacturing.

"Given this sharp run-up, investors could take some money off the table in PSU funds and defence funds which are narrow themes and valuations are stretched," said Nanda.

The PSU fund category has returned 93% on average in the past year, while defence funds have returned 113%. Mid-caps and small-caps are the other scheme categories where investors could cut their exposure, said analysts.

"Within the equity pie, investors can take some profits from mid- and small-cap schemes," said Nirav Karkera, head of research at Fisdom.

Over the last year, the Nifty Midcap 150 index rose 55.25%, the Nifty Smallcap 250 rose 58.51%, and the Nifty 50 gained 27.79%.

OUST UNDERPERFORMERS

Financial planners said investors must also look at the schemes that have underperformed in the recent raging bull market.

"Investors need to examine their returns compared to their benchmarks and move away from schemes that have failed to beat their benchmarks over the last three years," said Nanda.

DOLLAR INDEX GAINS

Rupee Settles 5 Paise Lower at 83.73 Against Dollar

PTI

The rupee declined 5 paise to settle at 83.73 against the US currency on Thursday amid a rise in demand for the dollar and an increase in crude oil prices.

The rupee opened at higher at 83.67 due to weakness in the US dollar in overseas markets after the US Federal Reserve hinted at a rate cut in near future.

The unit however failed to hold onto gains and fell to the day's low of 83.75 later. The domestic unit settled at 83.73 (provisional), down 5 paise from the previous close.

At the interbank foreign exchange market, the domestic currency had closed at 83.68 against the US dollar on Wednesday.

Forex traders said gains from a weak dollar were offset by month-end dollar demand and rising crude prices.

The dollar index, which gauges the greenback's strength against a basket of six currencies, rebounded from early lows and gained 0.29 per cent to 104.17 in late Asian trade.

Brent crude -- the global oil benchmark -- rose by 0.78 per cent to USD 81.47 per barrel in futures trade.

In the domestic equity market, the 30-share BSE Sensex climbed 126.21 points to close at a record high of 81,867.55, while the Nifty rose 59.75 points to breach the 25,000-mark for the first time.

Centre may Review FY25 Gold Bond Target in Sept: Official

Banikinkar Pattanayak

New Delhi: The government will likely review its revised FY25 gold bond issuance target in September when it holds the meeting for its market borrowing during the second half of this fiscal, a senior official said.

However, there is no immediate plan to scrap either the sovereign gold bonds or green bonds, he said.

The government has already cut its gold bond issuance target for FY25 by 38% from the interim budget level to ₹18,500 crore, ET had reported on July 26. The redemption of such bonds issued earlier is pegged at ₹3,500 crore this fiscal.

The reduction from the interim budget level followed a reassessment of factors, including global geo-political situation that influences the precious metal prices and potential cost of fund mop-up through such papers, the official said on Thursday. "That was a very conscious move to see there is no disjunction between the cost of financing fiscal deficit (through such mop-ups) and the benefits accruing from physical gold imports," he added. The government had launched the gold bond schemes in late 2015 to discourage physical purchases of the precious metal and trim imports to reduce their debilitating impact on the current account deficit.
